Programs

Bethesda Adult Life Training Center is a Christian based residential training program that provides academic training through a state Adult Education program leading to a GED; driver's education; on-the-job vocational training; independent living skills; and individual, group, and family counseling. The on-the-job vocational training includes, steel fabrication, silkscreen printing, and horticulture. Some residents will also spend time doing auto/diesel mechanics and construction.

Residents are selected based upon their need for the programs offered and their desire to participate in their own development.
